

THE BOISE FARMERS MARKET

Farmers you can trust • Food you can trace

Winter Market Guidelines 2018

Welcome to The Boise Farmers Market located at the corner of 10th and Grove in downtown Boise, Idaho. The Boise Farmers Market upholds the age-old tradition of the consumer meeting the producer in a vibrant marketplace where community residents can not only purchase healthy foods but learn about the relationship of local farms and food to our health, our economy and our culture. We are dedicated to promoting a sustainable food system for our community by offering a diverse mix of agricultural products at the Market. This, in turn, encourages the renewal of our local agricultural economy. The Market is more than merely a place to exchange goods. It is a catalyst for incubating new farmers, new ideas and a sustainable community.

VISION: The Boise Farmers Market is a community marketplace where local food and agricultural products are available year round and where the community can learn about and become engaged in food system issues. The Market is a catalyst and incubator for local food-related activities in the region, and helps to build personal and community self-reliance.

MISSION: The Boise Farmers Market supports a regenerative, healthy food and agricultural system by operating a vibrant marketplace featuring locally grown and crafted products.

The Boise Farmers Market, Inc. is an Idaho non-profit corporation. The Board of Directors is responsible for governing the market, ensuring the business of the corporation is conducted legally, hiring the market manager, and writing the vendor guidelines. The Board is composed of 11 members: 7 vendor members elected for 3-year staggered terms and 4 community members who are appointed annually. Membership in the market allows you to participate in the operation and governance of the market. Please see the criteria in General Market Rules #5 for how you can become a member.

The Winter Market is sponsored by the Boise Farmers Market to provide agricultural vendors with additional markets. To attract customers to the Market after the main produce season, The Board of Directors retains the right to adjust these Guidelines as necessary. These Guidelines generally apply to Winter Market products and vendors except as noted. Winter guidelines are in italics.

General Market Rules

Market Management and the Board of Directors will review and revise guidelines annually. Vendors are encouraged to submit guidelines suggestions, in writing, to the Board of Directors at any time. The guidelines will be available for vendor review before the Annual Member Meeting each year.

1. Producer owners or members of their family who are directly involved in the production of products are expected to attend their booths at the market. Exceptions must be approved by Market Management.
2. Market Management reserves the right to cancel the approval of any vendor's application or revoke their selling permit, with just cause, at any time. The vendor has the right to one appeal to the Board of Directors and the Board has the final say in all cancelation decisions.
3. In emergencies or unanticipated situations, guidelines may be revised by the Board of Directors at any time. This will ensure the daily operations of the market will continue with as little disruption as possible. All market vendors will be notified of the changes via email as soon as possible and no later than seven days after the revisions have been approved by the board.
4. The number of actual vendors in each product type at any given market may fluctuate, but the majority of members in the market organization must be agricultural. With board discretion, Art members are limited to 10% of the total number of members. For the Winter Market, it is the intent of the Board of Directors to emphasize farmers and local agricultural products instead of enforcing a specific ratio of vendors.
5. Vendors may become voting members of the market organization upon completion of the following:

 - b. Possession of insurance as required by these guidelines.
 - c. Possession of active business status as determined by the Idaho Secretary of State's office or the Oregon Department of Revenue.

12. Vendors coming to the market with children must be considerate of their neighboring vendors and customers. Children at the Market must be closely supervised because of the high level of activity in an urban marketplace. The market will not be responsible for their safety.
13. Vendor behavior must remain professional and courteous to everyone. This means no cursing, derogatory language, or discussing topics that may make others uncomfortable.

Vendor Categories

Agricultural Vendors

Specialty Product Vendors

Specialty Product Vendors are non-farmers who produce specialty foods or non-foods.

Specialty Foods

1. Specialty food products are processed foods prepared for off-site consumption. Specialty foods must be prepared in a commercial or certified kitchen.

2. If any vendor wants to sell a cottage food at the market they must complete and submit a risk assessment form to their local health department and provide a copy signed by their health department approving the product as a cottage food to BFM.
3. All specialty food vendors must offer at least one product that uses locally produced goods as the main or featured ingredient.
 - a. Vendors are encouraged to increase the amount of locally produced ingredients in the products each season.

4. Priority is given to vendors who use more locally grown or produced products, especially products from agricultural vendors at the market.
5. The market is obligated to promote healthy, locally produced food. Items not allowed for sale at the market include nationally distributed packaged food, energy drinks, packaged coffee, cotton candy, donuts and non-local commercially made candies, chips or nuts.

Specialty non-food

1. Specialty non-food products are not edible products and generally serve a utilitarian purpose. Raw ingredients are enhanced to add additional value to the final products.
2. Priority will be given to vendors who use locally-grown raw materials.
3. Vendors may be asked to list the raw materials in their market booth, if they are not labeled on the product.

On-Site Food Vendors

2. Community Group vendors do not pay the annual selling permit and are not eligible for membership.
3. If a vendor is selling any product at the market it must be relevant to the event or organization represented at the market and must be pre-approved by Market Management.

Art Vendors

1. The Boise Farmers Market is dedicated to supporting local agriculture and food. The Board of Directors will determine the number of artists each season based on the current number and mix of vendors. Artists applying for the Market are selected based on quality, use of locally-grown products, and the space available in the market. New artist applicants should not expect favorable consideration unless they are using an extensive amount of locally-grown agricultural products in their art, or their art in some way contributes to the local agricultural economy.

High Stall Vendors

1. High Stall vendors are generally commercial businesses with a retail storefront either at or in addition to the place of production. Examples are a bakery, winery, restaurant or brewery.
2. On-farm produce stands are excluded.
3. High Stall vendor booths may be operated by the owner, employees or representatives of the business.

4. Wineries:

- a. Priority will be given to estate wineries (those who grow their own grapes and make their own wine from them).
- b. Wineries that purchase grapes must provide signage identifying the grape grower and location and must be approved by market management. Priority will be given to wineries that use locally-grown grapes.
- c. Visiting Winemakers are considered an invited vendor. They are not charged an annual permit and are not eligible for membership in the market.

Invited / Visiting Agricultural Vendors

BFM may invite vendors to participate in the Winter Market that may not qualify for participation during the regular season. Preference will be given to those businesses that enhance the local agricultural economy. Invited Winter Market vendors are not eligible for membership in the market organization. For the Winter Market, cooperative booths may be allowed at the discretion of Market Management. These booths will allow the market to showcase agricultural products from regional farmers.

Conditions of Market participation for invited vendors include:

1. Pre-approved on an annual basis and at the sole discretion of Market Management
2. May attend for a period of time based on market needs at the sole discretion of Market Management. This is generally less than 6 markets per season.
3. Fees for the season will be negotiated on an individual basis not to exceed $100 per day per booth and not less than the daily booth fee. Invited vendors do not pay the annual selling permit and are not eligible for membership in the market.
4. The owner or member of the family involved in the production and operation of the invited business must attend their stall on market days.
5. A majority of products sold by the vendor must be grown by the vendor. If products are contracted by the vendor they must be from farms near the vendor's locale. Names and locations of contractors with product at the market must be displayed at the market.

6. Application must list all items being sold at the market.
7. Additional products must be approved by Market Management one week before they are sold at the market.
8. Proof of $1,000,000 liability insurance, Sales Tax ID number, certifications of scales, health department certifications, organic certifications, and any other pertinent certifications required by Market Management must be given to Market Management before the vendor may attend their first market.

General Product Guidelines

1. All products must be grown, raised, produced, caught, gathered, designed or made by the person selling at the market. Farmers at the Winter Market will be permitted to resell another local farmer's goods at the discretion of the Market Manager. This product must not be the same as sold by another farmer who is growing the product. If the product is in such demand that additional supply is desired, Market Management will determine how much extra will be allowed.
2. New products or additional products from existing vendors will be a part of the market only upon approval from Market Management and the Jury Committee.
3. Vendors are required to submit a complete list of all products they wish to sell at the market with their application. If the vendor wishes to add products they must submit to the Market Management in writing one week before they wish to sell the product.
4. Admission of any product will be based on the present competitive availability (number of sellers) of that product as determined by Market Management. Monopolies and gluts should be avoided.
5. Resale of all products is prohibited with the exception of some High Stall and Invited Agriculture vendors and only with prior approval of Market Management.
6. If products are purchased for resale for any purpose or come from a grower-owned operation more than 50 miles from the primary farm then like products grown on the farm may not be sold at the market without express approval from the Jury Committee. An example would be the purchase and resale of cattle. A rancher may buy and sell cattle at will, but they may only sell beef from cattle that meet the market's product guidelines. The rancher must disclose their buying and selling on the market application and have express approval from the Jury Committee to sell beef at the market.

7. The use of locally-grown ingredients is required. Vendors are urged to provide appropriate signage to advertise their use of these ingredients.
8. Use of an ingredient that is not locally grown when there is abundant local supply is not in keeping with the local agricultural focus of the Boise Farmers Market. Vendors may be asked to defend their product choice before the Board of Directors.
9. For the Winter Market, Market Management and the Board of Directors may allow horticultural, agricultural or food products that will attract customers to the market. These will be products that are not produced by a current vendor at the market.

Agricultural Product Guidelines

1. Agricultural products include locally grown fruits, vegetables, flowers, bedding plants, and locally bred, raised, cultivated or collected; animal, poultry, fish, eggs, honey and bee products.
2. Bedding and landscape plants and flowers must be either propagated by the vendor from seed, cuttings, bulbs or plant divisions or have been substantially increased in value under the vendor's care.
3. Preference will be given to vendors who raise livestock from birth to slaughter. All livestock must be owned and managed by the vendor for at least 80% of the normal lifespan of the animal.
4. Meat, egg and milk vendors must meet the published requirements of the USDA and ISDA and only sell their products in approved packaging.
5. Containers holding farm products that are typically eaten raw, like leafy greens, must never be set directly on the ground unless the container has no holes to admit dirt and contaminants.

Specialty Product Guidelines

Specialty products are raw or pre-processed goods whose value has been increased through the addition of ingredients or processes that make them more readily useable by the consumer. There are two categories of specialty products: Food and non-food.

1. All Specialty products sold at the market must be produced by the vendor. Vendor's work must dominate the final product. Raw ingredients must be significantly altered and/or enhanced by the vendor.
2. Products will be admitted to be sold at the market by approval from Market Management and the Jury Committee at least one full week before the vendor plans to sell the product. Their decision will be based on the current product mix. Priority will be given to products that use more locally sourced ingredients and packaging.
3. Co-packing is only allowed if the vendor is the original owner and creator of product or recipe and only with approval of Market Management and Jury Committee. Co-packed products using major ingredients that are not locally grown will receive high scrutiny.

Specialty Food

1. Specialty Foods may be made from local ingredients such as dairy, eggs, flour, produce, meat, etc.
2. Examples of specialty food products are: pies, baked goods, condiments, vinegars, cheese, sausage, cured meats, flour, spice mixes, jams, jelly, pickles, and oils.
3. These products are generally prepared for off-site consumption.
4. All specialty food products must be produced in a commercial or certified kitchen except cottage foods as defined by current state regulations.
5. Farmers may produce specialty food products. These products will receive the same scrutiny as from any other producer. Preference will be given to products using ingredients grown on the farm.

Specialty Non-Food Guidelines

1. Examples include soaps, lotions, cosmetics, medicinal products, wreaths, bouquets, hides, pelts, plant and animal fiber products, soil and plant amendments.
2. Priority will be given to farmers who produce specialty non-food products from ingredients raised on their farm.

3. Farmers may produce specialty non-food products from ingredients not grown on their farm. Additional signage may be required.

On-site/Prepared Food Product Guidelines

On-site/prepared food products are foods prepared at the market ready to be consumed at the market. Vendors must comply with all applicable city and health department requirements.

1. Products sold at the market must be pre-approved by Market Management and the Jury Committee at least one full week before the vendor plans to sell the product. Vendors will be accepted based on the current product mix.
2. Priority is given to those vendors and products using the highest percentage of locally-sourced ingredients.
3. Products will be admitted to be sold at the market, by Market Management, based on the current product mix and priority is given to products that use more locally sourced ingredients.
4. Vendors are expected to present their own unique product. The market is obligated to promote healthy, locally produced food. Vendors must provide products that are as nutritious as possible, and represent healthy eating habits. Commercially packaged foods like chips, candy, canned soda, etc., will not be sold at the market.

Vendor Promotional Product Guidelines

1. All promotional products must be approved by the Market in accordance with normal product approval protocol.
2. Promotional products must only promote the vendor's business or promote the Boise Farmers Market.
3. Only one example of each promotional product may be displayed at a time.

Vendor Stall Spaces

1. Market Management will determine stall space locations and number based on availability and current logistical requirements. Every effort will be made to keep vendors in their desired spot if they attend the market regularly.

2. Returning vendors will have the first right of refusal of their space.
3. No more than three stall spaces may be used by any one member business on a regular basis on a market Saturday without approval of market management.
4. Stall spaces are non-transferrable and may not be sub-let.

Stall Space Assignment

1. Stall spaces will be issued in increments of approximately 10' x 10'. Stall space may be shared by vendors upon approval from Market Management. Vendors may be asked to expand their display area as deemed appropriate by Market Management. Winter Market booth spaces may be smaller or have an irregular shape due to space availability.
2. If a vendor will be absent, notification must be given to Market Management by noon on Friday before the market to allow for reassignment of space. If the vendor does not provide notification of a foreseen absence, the vendor will be charged for their space. Additional violations are covered in the General Market Rule Violations section on page 22. Pre-paid booth fees will only be eligible for credit upon approval of Market Management.
3. Reserved space must be claimed by 7:45 am on market days or it may be reassigned. Vendors not claiming reserved space or not contacting Market Management by 8:15 am on the market day will not receive credit for that day.
4. Community groups aligned with the mission and vision of the market will be given priority over other community groups.
5. Businesses and other groups supporting community events and activities will be admitted with approval of Market Management and based on space availability.

Gross Sales Reporting

The Boise Farmers Market collects gross sales data and shopper counts to better understand our economic impact on our community. Groups that collect this information from BFM include city, state and federal agencies and our insurance provider.

We recognize the sensitivity around gross sales reporting by vendors and in order to maintain the highest vendor confidentiality, we follow these procedures:

1. Vendors are required to submit completed gross sales forms by product category for each market day attended. Reports for each month are due on the first market day of the following month.
2. Forms may be submitted to market staff by US mail, email, or in hand by the vendor or their designee, on or before the first Saturday after the end of a month in which the vendor attended a market day.

Market Appearance

1. The vendors are responsible for keeping their stall spaces clean and attractive at all times during market hours.

3. Tents of vendors must be 10'x10' and white. Exceptions are at the discretions of Market Management.
4. Vendors are responsible for cleaning their stall space and removing their own refuse, boxes, signs and unsold product at the end of the market day. Market, city, or privately owned garbage cans or dumpsters cannot be used to dispose of a vendor's personal trash.
5. The Boise Farmers Market encourages and promotes recycling.

Signage

1. All vendors must provide a sign identifying themselves or their business, and their location. All signage and product sampling must be contained within the space rented by the vendor.
2. Signage must not obstruct the view or interfere with any neighboring vendor spaces.

SAFETY

Customer and vendor safety is of the utmost importance. The following safety measures must be considered in booth setup and teardown:

1. All signage and display material must be appropriately secured.
2. Potentially obtrusive or obstructive displays must not endanger the customers or the flow of market traffic.

3. Canopies must be anchored according to the manufacturer's instructions.
4. All vendors using flame to cook food or as a heater must have a fully charged fire extinguisher in their stall at all times.
5. Common sense and courtesy must be observed at all times.
6. Be especially aware of:
 - a. Vehicle loading and unloading.

 - c. Vehicle movement throughout the Market during setup and teardown times.
7. Incidents resulting in personal or property damage will be the sole responsibility of the offending vendors. The market is not responsible for damages due to vendor negligence, weather, or customers. Any incident involving personal injury or property damage must be reported to market management immediately.
